"Why do you go away? So that you can come back. So that you can see the place you came from with new eyes and extra colours. And the people there see you differently, too. Coming back to where you started is not the same as never leaving."

Why Study Abroad in England?

- Enrich Your Education by Broadening Your Horizons!

Many students in the United States who study abroad or even travel briefly as part of a course report that such experiences were life-changing and, in some cases, career-defining. There's only so much you can learn from reading textbooks and watching travel shows. Get to know what life is like in another country, make life-long friends, and gain valuable experiences that will not only make a lasting difference in your life, but also make yourself valuable to future employers and graduate schools!

- Explore the United Kingdom and Europe!

From London, hop on the state-of-the-art train systems and make a leisurely day trip to Cornwall, Stonehenge, Oxford or Cambridge Universities. Or wake up earlier and spend a day in Edinburgh or Glasgow in Scotland! For weekend getaways, hop on the Eurostar to Brussels or Paris!

- Post-graduate Career or Education Opportunities!

In 2009, a University of Minnesota research team showed that greater global engagement through studying abroad significantly and positively affects meaningful employment and graduate school enrollment, to the point where the University of Minnesota's Carlson School of Management required all undergraduates to have a study abroad experience in order to graduate. Study abroad experiences encourage skills that many corporations and international organizations are looking for!
