

F-1 Transfer Student Enrollment Checklist

Steps to Complete Before Your First Semester at Greensboro College

1. Pay your $250.00 deposit for the semester

Students must pay a $250 deposit using: <https://pay.greensboro.edu/checkout/items/2> or through paymytuition.com

The deposit is deducted from overall tuition. Enrollment steps cannot continue until the deposit is paid.

2. Sign your Financial Responsibility Agreement (FRA)

After paying the deposit, students must sign the FRA. The FRA confirms the student understands their financial obligations. It must be signed before other steps can be completed.

3. Check your GC email and set up Moodle account

Students must check GC email daily. A New Student Checklist Packet will be emailed to the GC email account, this will contain instruction about logging into Moodle.

Moodle is used to:

- Enroll in the New Student Orientation course
- Submit the course registration request form
- Sign the housing contract
- Upload the student ID/Pride card photo

4. Make sure you have the correct immunizations

Immunization requirements can be obtained by emailing: internationalprograms@greensboro.edu

5. Purchase your student health insurance

GC does not endorse one specific service. Here is a starter list of insurance options:

6. Paying your semester tuition

Students should continue checking email. The Student Accounts Office will email when the semester bill is ready. The email will include payment plan options and ways to pay the bill.

7. View the International Pre-Orientation video

Students should watch the video for a virtual campus visit and important arrival preparation information.

8. Attend the International Orientation upon arrival at GC for your first semester

Orientation is required for the first semester. It takes priority over other events, including athletic practices.

The orientation date will be communicated after the student obtains a visa. Flights should be scheduled to arrive in time for orientation.

If orientation is missed due to delays or other issues, the student must schedule a one-on-one session. The information is required by U.S. federal law.
